	* REGULATION (EU) 2016/679 OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (GDPR)  Polish Act of May 10, 2018 on the protection of personal data, consolidated text Journal of Laws of 2019, No 1781 (the Polish Act on personal data protection)
The categories of personal data we collect about you.	What personal data do we process about you? Collection of information. The Controller provides marketing information, including newsletter or free materials (e.g. e-books) using the following personal data: your name and surname, company name (if applicable), email address and phone number (if you provide us with this data). Sensitive personal data. Sensitive personal data include for example personal data regarding health. As a rule this type of personal data is not processed for marketing purposes, including newsletter or sharing free materials.
The purposes for which we process your personal data.	For what purposes do we process your personal data? We process your personal data for direct marketing purposes, including sending of newsletters or share free materials (e.g. e-books), based on your explicit consent, provided when signing up to the newsletter or providing so-called marketing consent, also implied way by providing your contact details for marketing purposes (e.g. business cards, fulfilling signing form and its sending). The basis for the processing is Article 6.1.a) of GDPR. If the processing of your personal data were to take place for a purpose other than those previously indicated, each time this will take place after obtaining your prior consent to the processing of your personal data, in the range of and for the purpose indicated in this consent (Article 6.1.a) of GDPR). We may also process your personal data for a secondary purpose where it is closely related, such as: (1) storing, deleting or anonymising your personal data, (2) fraud prevention, audits, investigations, dispute resolution or insurance purposes, litigation and defence of claims or (3) statistical, historical or scientific research. The basis for the processing is Railwaymen legitimate interests so Article 6.1.f) of GDPR.

Who do we share your personal data with?	Your personal data are exclusively processed for the purposes referred to above and will only be shared on a strict need to know basis only with trusted subjects, such as companies providing and operating selected IT systems and solutions, subjects providing accounting and legal services to Railwaymen, i.e. subjects cooperating with the Controller on the basis of relevant agreements and only in accordance with the Controller's instructions.
Do we transfer your personal data to third countries?	Your personal data may be transferred outside the European Union - to third countries. Railwaymen uses external providers of various services, e.g. Meta Platforms Ireland Limited (Facebook and subsidiaries) (Meta or Facebook), Google Ireland Limited (Google), Microsoft, Amazon etc. Because of that your personal data may be transferred to the United States of America (USA) in connection with their storage on American servers (in whole or in part). What is important, based on the implementing decision of the European Commission of 10 July 2023, issued on the basis of GDPR, the adequate level of protection of personal data within the EU-US data protection was stated. That decision has confirmed that personal data processing on rules binding in the USA is sufficient from the European Union requirements. What's more, Railwaymen may transfer your personal data only to recipients who guarantee the highest protection and security of personal data, including through: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. cooperation with entities processing personal data in countries in respect of which an appropriate decision of the European Commission has been issued (like that indicated above),2. application of standard contractual clauses issued by the European Commission,3. application of binding corporate rules approved by the relevant supervisory authority, or those to whom you have given your consent to the transfer of personal data. Detailed information is available in the privacy policies of each of the providers. For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Google LLC: https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=pl• Meta Platforms Ireland Limited (i.e. Facebook, Instagram): https://www.facebook.com/privacy/explanation Currently, the services offered by Google and Meta are mainly provided by entities located in the European Union. However, you should always review the privacy policies of these providers to obtain the latest information regarding the protection of your personal data. Microsoft and Amazon may store some data in the United States or use service providers from that country, but the data is mainly processed in the European Union.

How long do we hold your personal data for?	Railwaymen only holds your personal data for a defined period of time. Your personal data will be processed until you withdraw your consent. Consent may be withdrawn at any time, but this will not affect the lawfulness of the processing that Railwaymen performed before the withdrawal of consent. To withdraw consent, please write to: gdpr@railwaymen.org. What about secondary purposes? With regard to data processed on the basis of our legitimate interests (for secondary purposes), your personal data will be processed until the limitation period for claims expires, which is generally 3 or 6 years from an action which justifies a given claim, depending on whether you are an entrepreneur or not.
Consent withdrawal.	You can always withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data. The consents you have given for the processing of personal data may be withdrawn at any time, but this will not affect the lawfulness of the processing that Railwaymen performed before the withdrawal of such consent. To withdraw your consent, please write to: gdpr@railwaymen.org.

Your rights and how to exercise them.	Your rights in relation to your personal data. In regard to the processing of your personal data by Railwaymen, you have the following rights: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the right to withdraw consent to the data processing at any time, • the right to access your data and receive a copy of it, • the right to rectify (amend) your personal data, • the right to restrict the processing of personal data or to erase your personal data, • the right to data portability (if the processing of data is carried out by automated way), • the right to raise an objection to the processing of data on the basis of Article 6.1.f) of GDPR (so it concerns secondary purposes only). How can you realise these rights? To realise the rights please write to Railwaymen via email: gdpr@railwaymen.org. We will answer no later than in one month. What can you do if you think we are handling your data incorrectly? If you think we are handling your data incorrectly, you have the right to lodge a complaint to the supervisory authority - the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection (2 Stawki Street, 00-193 Warsaw). We would appreciate it if you presented your concerns to us first. Perhaps this way the matter can be resolved quickly.
What are the consequences of not providing your data?	Providing personal data is voluntary, but necessary to receive electronic commercial information, including our newsletter or free materials.
Information about automated data processing, including profiling.	Your personal data will not be used for automated decision-making that affects your rights, obligations or freedoms within the meaning of the GDPR. Your personal data may be processed by automated way (including profiling), but in this case it will not result in any legal effects or significantly affect your rights, obligations or freedoms within the meaning of the GDPR.

	Within Railwaymen website and tracking technologies, your personal data may be profiled, which helps to better personalise our offer (mainly through so-called behavioural advertising). However, this should not have any impact on your legal situation, in particular on the terms of the agreements concluded by you or the agreements you intend to conclude.
